NC-4 GETS AWAY ON LONG FLIGHT WEATHER IS FAIR

Vessels in Harbor Give

EXPECTS TO REACH LISBON BEFORE DARKNESS FALLS

Is Prepared to Continue
Flight to Plymouth On Wednesday.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Ponta Delgada, May 27.—With Commander A. C. Read confident that he would reach the coast of Portugal before darkness tonight, thus achieving the coveted honor of making the first trans-Atlantic flight, the U. S. seaplane NC-4 started for Lisbon this morning at 10:18 Greenwich time or 6:18 a. m. New York Time.

The crew of the plane, which was the same that which made the memorable flight from Newfoundland to the Azores, boarded the plane an hour before sunrise but it was not until several hours later that the giant machine taxied outside the breakwater headed to windward and rose gracefully into the air. She circled the harbor and then headed for her destination amid cheers from the sailors and soldiers who lined the decks of the ships in the harbor and the crowds on the pier, together with the shrieks of visitors from all the steam craft within sight.

The din of the salute was kept up for several moments, the plane meanwhile speeding on her way and slowly disappearing in the bright eastern sky.

The weather was almost perfect this morning with the warm spring sun shining brightly on the waters of the bay. There was but a few clouds in the sky and only a slight northwest wind was blowing which was favorable to the flyers. Weather experts predicted that the plane might encounter cloudy weather and possible occasional rain squalls midway of the course but this was not expected to interfere with her progress.

Lieutenant Commander Read intends to remain in Lisbon overnight and start for Plymouth, England, tomorrow morning, weather permitting.

The crew between here and Portugal marked by fourteen American destroyers stretched out along the route to guide the flyers and if necessary to give them assistance.

The departure of the NC-4 which was set for an early hour was delayed by trouble with the fourth engine of the plane.

On a successful flight of the U. S. Naval seaplane NC-4 from Ponta Delgada to Lisbon today depended the completion of the trans-Atlantic flight started from Trepassey, N. F., on May 16. This seaplane being the one survivor of the three that essayed the trip.

The U. S. Naval seaplane NC-1, NC-3, and NC-4 started from Rockaway Point, New York, on May 8, on the preliminary leg of their flight to Halifax, reaching there in safety. The NC-4, however, encountered engine trouble and was forced to alight on the sea off Chatham, Mass. It was towed into the harbor and repairs were rushed there and the machine was put in shape to continue its voyage.

On May 14 the NC-4 left Chatham and arrived at Halifax in safety. The next day it continued its flight to Trepassey, N. F., where it joined the NC-1 and NC-3 which had reached Trepassey May 10.

The three seaplanes left Trepassey May 16 on their trip to the Azores and the NC-4 arrived at Herla in the Azores, the next day, having been in the air 12 hours. The NC-1 lost her way in the fog and her crew was picked up by a Greek steamer and taken to the Azores, the plane being lost. The NC-3, after losing her bearings, alighted on the sea, from which Commander Towers in charge of the craft was unable to rise. After being missing for 52 hours the NC-3 entered the harbor of Ponta Delgada, Azores, under her own power. She was badly battered by the seas she encountered, however, that she was unable to fly, leaving the NC-4 the sole survivor of the trio.

The naval officer in charge of the NC-4 is Lieutenant Commander Albert Cushing Read, who is accompanied by five companions. From Ponta Delgada to Lisbon is approximately 735 miles.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Ponta Delgada, May 27.—The American seaplane NC-4 strayed for Lisbon at 10:18 o'clock this morning, Greenwich time (6:18 New York time). The weather is clear.

The NC-4 was reported passing station number one at 11:13 o'clock, G. M. T.

The seaplane sent a wireless message to Admiral Jackson after starting, which read:

"We seem to be on our way. Many thanks for your hospitality."

EXPECT EARLY ARRIVAL.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Washington, May 27.—The navy department computed the time of the NC-4's start at 6:18 Washington time and the plane passed the Thompson at 7:13 a. m. Washington time showing that Lieutenant Commander Read made the first lap of his voyage in less than an hour, his speed being in excess of 65 knots. At that rate, which will be accelerated as the consumption of gasoline by the motor reduces the load of the plane, the NC-4 should reach Lisbon around 10 o'clock Washington time this afternoon.

The report from station ship number 4 showed that the big seaplane over the first quarter of the trip to Lisbon was averaging more than 70 knots an hour.

When she passed stationhip number 6 at 16:18 Greenwich time (12:18 Washington time).

Stationhip No. 9 is approximately 350 miles from Lisbon and 450 miles from Ponta Delgada. The seaplane made the 450 miles flight in approximately six hours.

PITTSBURGH FIRM GETS CONTRACT

Engineering Company Will Erect Refinery Plant For Ohio Cities Gas at Central City.

The Ohio City Gas company has placed the general contract for the big refinery plant with the Rush Engineering company of Pittsburgh and a representative of the company is expected in Newark today to confer with Superintendent Miller of the Ohio Cities Gas company.

The name of Central City has been changed to Heath, and will be known as Heath. The Heath is progressing rapidly, and the temporary warehouse has been completed. It is 30 by 60 feet with a 12 foot platform all around it. The platform is used for unloading material. The delay in placing a switch by the B. & O. is holding up the work. The railroad company had ties and rails on the ground but the big freight wreck last week necessitated the company taking the material to repair their track in that vicinity.

One of the water wells, of which there are to be six, has been drilled. A contract for grading will be let in off ground for placing of 55,000 barrel tanks. These tanks are placed on level ground, and a fire wall of brick will surround each tank. This is done in case the tank bursts, due to lighting of ignites or breakage, the oil will be held within the confines of the fire wall.

CITY WINS PHONE RATE FIGHT IN DECISION GIVEN BY JUDGE SMITH

Temporary Injunction Is Made Perpetual Against Increasing Rental—Court Holds Postmaster General Can't Interfere With Contract Between City and Company.

Judge C. H. Smith of Steubenville, the city of Newark and ordered the defendant as its agent and representative to put the same into immediate effect. On July 1, 1918, the court ordered that the increased rate be paid into an escrow fund and named Bert O. Horton as trustee of the fund.

In his opinion Judge Smith said:

"The city of Newark entered into a binding contract with the defendant that the terms of a contract itself can not be arbitrarily ignored by one party.

It is specifically provided in the contract that the postmaster general has authority to take measures that it was not intended to amend, repeal, annul or effect the existing laws or powers of the states in relation to the lawful police regulations of the several states except where it may affect the transmission of government communications and it must be admitted that the increase of rates does not effect government communications."

The supreme court of Ohio has held that the regulation of rates for services rendered is an exercise of police power and therefore that the joint act of congress does not authorize the agents of the government to regulate and fix rates for telephone services entered into by a binding contract between a municipality in this state and a public utility. The authority thus delegated in the postmaster general must be exercised in a reasonable manner and within the limitations imposed by the statute of the defendant.

On July 26, the plaintiff filed a petition in common pleas court asking that an injunction be granted against collecting the increased rate.

On July 31, 1918, Postmaster General Burleson assumed control of all telephone and telegraph lines in the United States.

On February 14, 1919, the operating company appointed by the postmaster general fixed the classification of rates granted will be made perpetual by the postmaster general.

WILL TEST LAW PROVIDING FOR LIQUOR LICENSES

Commission Claims All Fees
Due State Have Not Been Paid.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Columbus, May 27.—Ohio today celebrated her first day as the biggest prohibition state in the country. Constitutional prohibition, voted last November by a majority of more than 25,000, went into effect at midnight.

As far as could be learned, only one saloon was open for the sale of hard drinks in the state today. That was at Cleveland. The police seized the bar and announced that a test case will result to test the new constitutional provision. The lone bar did a thriving business the short time it remained open.

Validity of existing liquor laws in Ohio also will be tested as a result of a ruling made yesterday by Attorney General Price, who held that the state liquor license commission expired at midnight last night. The commission announced that it would continue to function until State Auditor Donahay refused to venture an opinion today after a talk with the attorney general.

The commission stated that it has not collected all fees due the state and must remain in operation until such collections are completed. Otherwise, it is stated, the state will lose thousands of dollars in revenue.

Scores of former saloons today reopened as restaurants and soft-drink places.

DID RUSHING BUSINESS.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Cleveland, May 27.—What will probably be the first legal test of the prohibition law developed this morning when police found the saloon of Charles Kowitz open and doing a rushing business for a brief time before it was closed by police, who drove out the patrons, arrested John Grohart, the bartender, for violation of the liquor law, locked the place and took the key.

Kowitz declared he would make a test case of the closing of his place as he paid $300 for a license and had a right to remain open for six months.

Columbus, May 27.—"Bringing the world to Columbus," slogan of the Methodist centenary celebration which will be held here June 20 to July 13, is no more merely a slogan. It is a fact.

For weeks carload after carload of scenery, curious industrial exhibits and animals from all parts of the world have been arriving daily at the state fair grounds, where the exposition will be held.

The exposition, said to be the largest of its kind every attempted, will be held to stimulate interest in Methodism and to celebrate the end of the first 100 years of the church's history.

CULLISON IS HELD FOR BOY'S DEATH

Alexandria Man Probably Will Be charged With Criminal Negligence by Coroner.

Columbus, May 27.—After testifying yesterday at the inquest conducted by Coroner Heintz into the death Friday of Norman Albert Hodapp, 5-year-old boy, who drove an auto, Cullison, aged 28, Alexandria, was returned to city prison and held under a charge of murder.

Stories told by Cullison and J. B. McClain, aged 28, Granville, who accompanied Cullison while visiting Columbus the day of the accident in Cullison's auto, did not coincide. McClain was held as a witness, and both were arraigned this morning in municipal court.

The Hodapp lad was crossing Reinhart avenue, at Beech street, when hit by a car. The driver, stopping a block away, looked back and then proceeded without making his identity known.

The murder charge was filed by the victim's father, Albert J. Hodapp, 399 Whittier street.

Because more than a half dozen persons have been killed by autoists who fled from the scene in the last five months, a murder, instead of manslaughter charge was filed against Cullison.

Coroner Heintz said a verdict of criminal negligence against Cullison is very likely. Regardless of the coroner's verdict, Cullison will carry the case through the courts.

MEN WANTED FOR U. S. JOBS IN WEST VIRGINIA

Columbus, May 27.—Two thousand workers, skilled and unskilled are needed in the Charleston, W. Va., district, the U. S. employment service announced today.

The naval ordnance plant at South Charleston, the explosive plant at Nitro, W. Va., as well as private plants want workers. Coal miners, woodsmen etc., are included in the list of open jobs.

These jobs, it is said, offer good opportunities to discharged soldiers. Several of the plants are asking for discharged men exclusively. These men are asked to apply to the nearest U. S. employment office, or returning soldiers' bureau.

At the Nitro plant, which is being conducted by the ordnance department, the work consists of handling munitions with an eight hour day. Lodging is furnished without cost and men may be had for a day in mess halls. A group of six men may occupy a bungalow and do their own cooking. Officials declare that these jobs offer a good opportunity for the worker to save money.

STOMACH NEEDED DIGESTIVE TONIC

There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body but if your stomach is weak, and you take a good tonic your stomach immediately gets the benefit. Without good blood digestion is weak and imperfect. The best digestive tonic is one that builds up the blood, strengthens the nerves and gives you an appetite.

Mr. Chris. Deeds of No. 915 East Seymour street, Muncie, Ind., tells how he freed himself from almost constant suffering and restored his appetite. He says:

"I am a railroad track foreman and in the course of my work I am exposed to all sorts of weather. Some time ago, while I was slightly run down in health, I became ill and after that I suffered more or less. My nerves were unstrung and I couldn't sleep. There was a constant gnawing pain in my stomach and my appetite was poor.

"I tried many treatments without benefit until, after reading an article in a paper, I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I could relish my meals after taking the first box and I was so pleased with the result that I continued the treatment according to directions until I had taken five boxes. As a result my stomach trouble has disappeared and I am no longer bothered by the gnawing pain or with sour stomach. My nerves also are improved. I have recommended the pills to a relative who found them beneficial."

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.00, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Greenwich, N. Y. Write today for free sample.

FAIR DIRECTORS RAZE OLD BARN

Attired In Overalls Twelve Members of Board Do Full Day's Work at Fair Grounds.

The 12 directors of the Licking County Agricultural fair grounds, each donning an overall and unpolished cap, proceeded to tear down the old pony barn, a task which the men of the committee have promised to give the school exhibit. At the noon hour the directors, including Mr. Hazlett, assistant ground and before 5 o'clock in the evening the big barn had been leveled. The barn will be remembered by many as it served a different purpose once being used as a bowling alley and again as a stable. During the Lincoln administration when the park was an amusement resort, the barn, a soft drink and bowling alley place, was patronized by thousands of visitors.

The directors are planning the largest and best fair ever given in Licking county and are now figuring on remodeling the old theatre building and using it for the art and mechanics display. A Model farm will be put up especially for the school exhibit. The school of this city will participate and awards of $100 will be made.

The poultry show this year will be managed under the direction of the local farmers association and will till the business to overflowing with 100 entries.

The fair will open June 1st and close June 25th.

Our Boys and Girls

One fact stands out which should claim the attention of every parent. That is that physical development should start early in childhood. The body proportions change in a wonderful degree from infancy to maturity. A child when born has entirely different lines and proportions from those acquired in two years' time. The head naturally does not grow as rapidly as other portions of the body, and therefore, is larger in the beginning.

Many sheets of childhood may be corrected by a wholesome regime, for the diet is not included as this exercise.

THE MURDER SPIRIT.

A number of very singular murder mysteries reported from various parts of the country recently, have occupied front positions in the newspapers. Such crimes were of course being committed all through the war period, but did not attract so much attention then. The terrible homicidal motive is still prominent in the human heart, and is worth attention as a social symptom.

To most people, such an act is simply incomprehensible. The murderer's state of mind would seem hell worse than any field of battle. He trembles at every shadow, starts whenever he sees an officer of the law, never has a moment of security. Then the agony of anxiety if apprehended, during the trial of his case, and the dread fear of the electrical chair or gallows.

Most people can not imagine any suffering or wrong that would seem harder to bear than the punishment of the man who except in proper self defense or through accident, has killed a fellow creature. How can you account for this type of character that can perform an act that brings such intense suffering upon the doer?

The most contemptible crime, is where one kills some one for money. The person who would do that sinks far below the beast. But whatever the motive, the more one looks at this crime, the more ferocious, cruel, and brutal it appears. There is no reason why murders should get any public sympathy. If they are clearly of unsound mind and irresponsible, they may be entitled to consideration.

Otherwise they have voluntarily dug a chasm of infinite depth between themselves and the rest of the human race. A person who would deliberately perform such an act must have yielded for years to the most brutal motives of his nature, shutting out all human feeling from his heart.

Somehow the preparations for the school graduations create more of a flutter among the dressmakers than among the teachers.

The Small Boy has made up his mind that when he gets to Congress he will repeal this odious and tyrannical tax on ice cream cones.

So generally successful is Hood's Sarsaparilla as a Spring medicine and in all ailments of the blood, stomach and kidneys, that it may truly be said to give universal satisfaction. It has been before the public for over 30 years and today has the largest sale of any sarsaparilla. Nothing under the sun could keep up this great demand but phenomenal efficiency and the support by the people of a good name.

Hood's Sarsaparilla represents the wisdom of one of the best physicians Boston ever had, combined with the practical experience of a pharmacist who has been putting up prescriptions for more than 50 years.

THE READER OF BOOKS.

A nation wide campaign to promote good reading was discussed at the recent convention of the American Booksellers Association at Boston. It was claimed that the mass of the population never read the great books of the present and past, which convey their message of immortal truth, and exhibit the latest developments of human progress.

Many book stores carry little but trashy novels, which are sold mostly by flashy girl pictures on the covers. Of course libraries have spread tremendously and largely supply the book demand. But the majority of people never read books.

Some people who used to be great readers, do not encourage their children to enjoy books, fearing lest they become bookworms. They think the think the quality that counts most in life is action, and that the reading of books tends more to contemplation than to action. However, unless action bases itself on human experience as set forth in books, it will accomplish no permanent results.

Some say the habit of newspaper and magazine reading distracts attention from good books. Probably much of the magazine reading has that effect. When people can buy for 10 or 20 cents a trashy periodical that will fill them up with silly fiction and fashion and tells for a week, they have no time left for anything better.

Newspaper reading should have that effect, since newspapers deal exclusively with real life. The man who is reading the small phase of any subject presented in any one newspaper issue, should become interested to get a good book and familiarize himself with the whole subject. This time of readjustment, when social institutions must be rebuilt on a sounder foundation, is a time when the people need to seek the deepest sources of wisdom.

Some one wants to know what has become of the old fashioned clergymen who use to wear a white necktie on all occasions? Well, last seen he was wearing overalls and a flannel shirt out in the garden, trying to stretch out his meager salary to support his family.

Some of the people who think air flights across the ocean will soon become the regular thing, are the same ones who begin to caution the automobile driver when he goes 20 miles an hour.

The incoming Congress was greeted by a large number of patriots, who at great personal loss have decided that they are willing to take positions in the government service.

The new Congressman feels he has scored a great triumph when he introduces a bill and gets it referred to some committee that will ignore him for the rest of the session.

The Internal Revenue bureau did much deliberating before deciding that corsets are underwear. Do some of the women wear 'em outside where the bureau people live?

It is suspected that one reason why some merchants think that a window display takes the place of advertising, is that the window show costs nothing.

A man who is always forgetting his best intentions, may be said to be a thoroughfare of good resolutions. — Mrs. Jamison.

Trying a Small Sample.
Aunt Caline says: We was all terribly excited yester day when the news come that Less Brane's oldest boy, No. had run off with Cora Ospina an' got married. We heard afterwards that they had went up to Newark an' hunted up a preacher. When they got to the Personage No. says to the preacher: "They's two or three of us a-thinking about gittin' married an' thought we'd look around an' see where we could get it done the cheapest," he says. "What do you charge?" says he. "I don't never make no charge," says the preacher, "but I believe the law allows us two dollars," he says. "Well," says No. a-handing him seventy-five cents, "just marry us as far as that'll go," he says.

STREAM POLLUTION.

(New York Times)
It was left to a governor from this city to sign the bill for preventing the continuance of pollution of rivers and streams throughout the state. The proposal had been pending since 1903, and it might have failed this year again had not Gov. Smith seen the benefits of purifying the harbor and the lower reaches of the Hudson. For years the Bronx river has been septic, but it has been so beautified and purified, and is now used for bathing and water sports; it is an adornment of the region through which it flows. A similar good work has been done in some of the lakes of the state against the resistance of polluters who are making money by redeeming useful, salable commercial products from the waters which they previously discharged. Ignorance and obstinacy are the reasons for persistency in the policy of polluting pure water. So many diseases are water-borne that considerations of health strengthen the commercial reasons for keeping flowing water pure.

It has been difficult to make progress in this matter. Only a little while ago the United States supreme court asked a reargument in the Passaic trunk sewer case. After years of effort, and decisions against the harbor polluters in the lower courts, the supreme court decided not the case, but that the evil did not ought to be brought up to date and hence reargued. The court thinks that the art of sanitation may have made such progress in the eleven years since the case has been before it, and the five years since the argument, that it may be possible to purify the dirty water as the alternative to keeping it clean.

That is one way of housekeeping, but it is better practice to keep premises clean than to remedy defilement. Great progress has been made in this respect in recent years, and at last the state at large, thanks to a governor from this city, is to receive benefits of health protection enjoyed most fully, although not exclusively, in this neighborhood.

FORD TRIAL BEGINS.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Mt. Clemens, Mich., May 27.—After two weeks of preliminaries the taking of evidence in the $1,000,000 libel suit of Henry Ford against the Chicago Daily Tribune began before Judge J. G. Tucker yesterday. The alleged libelous editorial of June 23, 1916 headed "Ford is an Anarchist" was read slowly and with solemn emphasis by attorney Alfred J. Murphy of counsel for Mr. Ford. The first witness for the plaintiff was John J. Henker, manager of the employment department of the Ford Motor company.

The Things About a Maxwell You Remember

1. It runs endless mileage.
2. It makes a dollar's worth of gas travel a mighty distance.
3. It shies at the repair shop.
4. Its tires seem to last forever.
5. Its upkeep never makes you poor.
6. It never wobbles or cracks in itsold age.
7. If you keep two or three other cars you'll drive your Maxwell twice as often as any of the others.
8. It is never thirsty for oil.
9. Your neighbor and your banker respect your motor car judgment.
10. When you part with it, it's like parting with a life-long friend.

All ten of which are due to the 300,000-all-alike idea conceived at the time the Maxwell was originated 5 years ago. The policy of doing one thing and doing it well over a period of years has no better example in business today than the product of the Maxwell Motor Company. It's the kind of car you never forget.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

The annual Licking county Institute of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held in the church of Christ at Hebron on Thursday of last week, there being an all day and evening meeting. Mrs. Florence D. Richards, president of Ohio W. C. T. U., and Mrs. Lucy Vankirk of Granville were guests of honor. A number of unions throughout the county were represented by one or more woman.

Mrs. Lucy Smith, county president pro tempore.

The morning program was mainly a county executive meeting, with reports given by a number of departmental superintendents followed by general discussion. A box lunch was served at noon.

The afternoon and evening programs consisted of papers pertaining to the evils effects of alcohol in many ways. Addresses were given both afternoon and evening by Mrs. Richards and Mrs. Vankirk.

There was special music at both occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde G. Foster were pleasantly surprised at their home near St. Louisville Sunday by a number of friends and relatives, the occasion being their birthday anniversaries. At noon dinner was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Honkison, Mr. C. H. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Foster and daughter Viola, Mr. and Mrs. George Berger, Mr. J. H. Gruenbach and son Carl, and Forrest Prof. Thomas Phillips and family of Granville, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Evans, Mrs. William Hankinson, Miss Margaret Hankinson, Miss Lucy Hankinson, Mr. J. E. Evans of Welsh Hills, Mrs. Edith Jones of Columbus, Miss Gertrude Foster and brothers Lee and Daniel.

The members of the Colonial Sewing class will be entertained on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. W. P. Neils at her home, 205 North Fifth street.

The Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Second Presbyterian church will entertain with an old fashioned box social in the church parlor on Thursday at 6 o'clock. The young women of the church are invited to pack a luncheon for two and the young men are to bid for them.

Build Now! Repair Now!

Every Dollar Put to Work is a Foundation Stone In Building Local Prosperity

THERE'S a tremendous lot of building that must be done in Newark and we've got to get at it. We need homes and apartment buildings, and unless we get them soon our city is going to suffer. For two years all building has been stopped. Population has increased, rents have advanced. People are having difficulty in finding any kind of a place to live in.

WE NEED TO START BUILDING

IT'S perfectly obvious that such conditions can't be permitted to last very long in Newark if this city is to be a desirable place to live in. If we don't remedy the situation, we'll lose a chance at a lot of prosperity that might come to us—and that reacts on every man and woman that lives here.

Where are the homes to house more workers brought here through industrial expansion? Homes are scarce now—what would the situation be if the Tire and Rubber Company had been brought to Newark? What is the dread of the Ohio Cities Gas Company? They'll tell you—LACK OF HOMES.

Get Back Your Grip on Health

Don't Let Your Blood Starve
For Want of Iron

Nuxated Iron—Master Strength Builder of the Blood—Supplies the Iron Deficiency and Helps
Give Renewed Vitality and Energy to Weak,
Nervous, Run-down Men and Women.

Thousands of men and women are improving their constitutions, laying themselves over to illness and bodily loss by living on health-saps because their blood is thinning out and possibly starving for want of iron. Iron deficiency paralyzes the entire system, pulls down the spirits, creates depression, a lack of strength and endurance and the inability to cope with the strong vigorous tasks in the race of life; these are the sort of warning signals that Nature gives when the blood is getting thin, pale, wizened and literally starved for want of iron. If you are not sure of your condition, go to your doctor and have him take your blood count and see where you stand or else make the following test yourself. See how far you can walk without being tired, then take two 5 grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. By enriching the blood and creating new red-blooded cells, Nuxated Iron strengthens and adds power and energy to the whole system.

Up to a dozen ironics predicts Nuxated Iron is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. Too many ironics guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by W. A. Erman, Evans' Cut Rate Store, The Meyer Drug Pharmacy and other druggists.

HOME OWNERS TURN DEAF EAR TO BOLSHEVISTS

Agent For Department of Labor Says: Urges Home-owning to Cure Unrest.

"I don't know how many hundreds of thousands of houses we are short, but one million houses nearly based on what we were building before the war," says Frank T. Pollay, special agent of the division of public works and construction in the U. S. Department of Labor, discussing the need for prompt resumption of the building program. "That means we should have had 350,000 increase during the year. That is the reason the rents are so high, that is the reason that people are getting back in the slums. The cure is to build decent homes to fit so that a man can own his home. Let me tell you that no man who owns his home is a Bolshevik, or an I. W. W. Get the man into his home and you have an American citizen."

"Now, we are very anxious that you should back us in this, that you should be impressed with the necessity of getting individual homes. We are sending out thousands and thousands of pieces of literature along this line, and through 5,000 agents and manufacturers in America we are spreading this propaganda. We have got the American Federation of Labor with us. They are very anxious that every laboring man should have a home, that the laboring man should have a better chance.

"I don't care whether you are wet or dry, you know perfectly well that now that the country has practically gone dry, the laboring man is not going to spend his money Saturday night and Sundays in dissipation, and whether he wants to or not, he is going to live a better home and therefore can get ahead and they can build homes, and every home or every large construction that is built, gentlemen, passes through 200 different organizations. Every time a good constructive work is started, 200 different trade organizations benefit whether it be a public or private work, therefore the thing for you gentlemen to ascertain is how to get this money."

"The average man who wants to build a home must get the money from a Building and Loan Bank. We have had 1,000 Washington representatives of over $4,000 building and loan associations. They have a capital today of over $2,000,000,000. Their assets are absolutely good. They seldom make a loss, and they do business on about seven-eights of 1 per cent, but that capital is not such capital under the Federal Reserve Act that they can take their mortgages to a Federal Reserve Bank and borrow upon them.

"Every one of those associations have good assets. The farmers met this condition some time ago, by having a Farmers' Loan Bank. That bank authorized to take a perfectly good farm mortgage and get the money on it at a Farm Loan Bank, but the Building and Loan Association cannot do it. Is there any reason under God's name, gentlemen, why a man can do that with a mortgage on a farm and why he cannot do it with a mortgage on his home? Not a bit of it. We are getting that law passed, and it will be introduced at the next session of Congress.

ONE MAN'S BEST INVESTMENT

"Special" Account Opened by Manager of Big Enterprises Has Paid Big Dividends.

An American business man had become convinced of the reasonableness of the doctrine of man's stewardship. He had thought it all out and decided that it might be a good thing to try the experiment. His various business enterprises had prospered; his income was constantly increasing; he certainly could do things which he might have done but had not. One night he lay awake pondering the whole matter, and before going to sleep prayed over it. Then he made up his mind, says the Christian Herald. Next morning he instructed his bookkeeper to open in the ledger a new account in his name, and marked "Special," to which the bookkeeper should regularly carry one-tenth of all the profits. He warned him never to fail to have the "Special" account ready when called for.

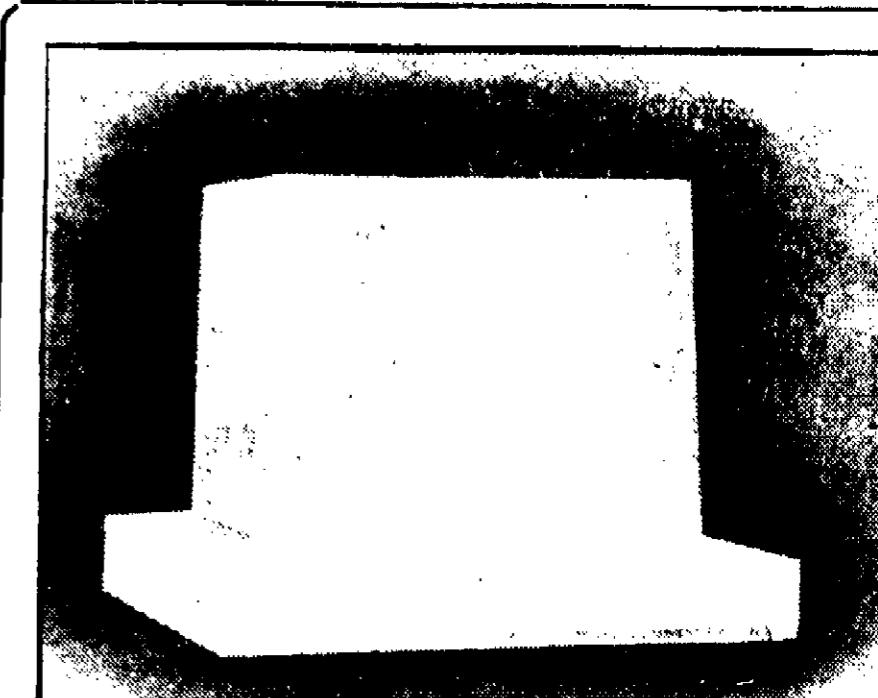

And that business man's "Special" has never failed. It has been to him a wonderful revelation of the capacity of a man immersed in big enterprises for doing good on a large scale as a side line. It has helped to build churches, to promote the gospel, to support missions, to maintain and train orphans, to bring gladness to homes of suffering and to many shut-ins. He has had a hand in a hundred noble enterprises for Christ and humanity. And the most extraordinary thing about it is that it has given him a new zest for business, having, as he himself would say reverently, God as a silent partner. It has not only been a means of blessing his business, but it has purified his whole life, ennobled his character and made him ten times a better man.

Leonidas.

Legend has it that Leonidas, the Spartan leader, was famous for his iron-like discipline among his troops. He was a stern, uncompromising leader in the cause of courage and personal devotion. In 480 B. C., the great leader Leonidas was entrusted with the defense of the Spartans. To defend the land forces of the Peloponnesus was stationed at the Pass of Thermopylae, between the Sea of Marmara and Mount Cithaeron. For days the Spartans fought in vain against the Spartan position and all were soon captured. Leonidas, the Spartan leader, a secret pass over the mountains by which the Spartans had retreated from the rear of the front. Preferring death to surrender and dishonor, Leonidas and his men perished at the pass.

THOMAS DIXON

AUTHOR OF "THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

Here is one of the notable screen productions of the year. It explodes some fantastic theories of Socialism, smashes the doctrine of free love to smithereens—makes you laugh, cry, thrill, shudder and leave you something of vital importance to think about.

ALHAMBRA TODAY—LAST TIMES Martin Johnson's CANNIBALS OF THE SOUTH SEAS

Photographed at the risk of life.
A SMASHING SPECTACLE OF
THE SAVAGE HUMAN AS HE EXISTS TODAY

Once captured by cannibals, only to escape in a hair's breadth, the Johnsons discovered a tribe of savages who had never seen a white man before. They were shown up by cameras for the first time.

Through it all they managed to keep their motion picture cameras and the resultant film is the most amazing thing ever exhibited and one of the greatest spectacles ever shown at the Alhambra for the last time.

Cannibals of the South Seas is a wild and exciting tale of adventure, of savagery, of war, and green hell. It is the most amazing motion picture ever shown at the Alhambra and London.

AMUSEMENTS

GRAND.
An brief of the oft-mentioned contention that a feature offering may be devoid of the so-called "thrill" element and yet prove universally interesting, George Louis Tucker points to his latest picture offering, "Mother."

"Mother" was adapted from the widely read novel by Eden Philpott, entitled "The Mother." Mr. Tucker chose the story for picturization because of its lack of hackneyed situations and much talked up "punch scenes" so often injected to bolster up a weak picture plot. The story relies entirely for its appeal to theatre audiences on the powerful human interest which dominates the action throughout. The famous director firmly believed that the dominant theme of "mother-love" so tenderly depicted in his newest production, would more than offset the complete absence of railroad wrecks, automobile collisions and the like variety of "thrills" which appear in the average state right feature.

GEM.
Today.

There is being offered at the Gem theatre this evening a rural story entitled "The Hired Man" with that clever chap, Charles Ray, in the leading role. Mr. Ray has never appeared to a better advantage in any screen story than he does in this. The setting is absolutely true to life and natural. The direction is splendid and the theme is one in which the hired man considered mentally dull turns out to be a genuine. The final run of the picture is tonight.

Wednesday.
Tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Gem theatre will be shown one of the best offerings that William Fox has ever offered the public. The title is "The Call of the Soul," with one of the greatest emotional actresses before the public today takes the leading role. The company supporting Miss Brockwell is one that has been carefully selected. In addition to this feature picture there will be shown one of the best comedies of the week.

AUDITORIUM.
"Hearts of Man."

The dramatic critic of the Los Angeles Examiner says: "All ye evil minds who think that only crime, murder, shooting and other offenses of that ilk make fit dramatic material, See 'Hearts of Men' this week at the California and find out the happiness and pleasure which comes from loving kindness, pluck and the big whole-souled men of the plains. For years we have been forced almost against our better judgment to believe that God's sunshine and open places breed up vicious men. George Beban in his newest release, says no. He brings us into touch with a gang of teamsters, rough in speech and manner—but truly Nature's noblemen 'neath a veneer of plainman's eccentricities."

This feature is seen tonight for the last times.

The One Woman.
The special Masterpiece production, "The One Woman," by Thomas Dixon, will be presented by Select Pictures at the Auditorium theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. "The One Woman" is a thrilling story of love, religion and politics concerning the faltering devotion of the wife of a man and the misguided career of Frank Gordon, a young Congregationalist who leaves his wife and family to follow the advice of Kate Ransom. Gordon holds the pulpit of a fashionable New York church, but as his leaning toward socialism becomes more pronounced, he is asked to resign. His only comforter is Miss Ransom, who finally urges Gordon to solicit funds for the erection of a "temple of man." At last Gordon is successful in obtaining the money, and before the new temple is completed he divorces his wife and enters into a common law agreement with Kate.

The Better 'Ole.'
There's no doubt about your thorough enjoyment of "The Better 'Ole," the comedy picture of the war. "The Better 'Ole" was played before the screen by the famous company which originally presented the stage play in London and started the attraction on its sensational career of success. Charles Rock, who made such an instantaneous and tremendous hit in the role of Old Bill, is seen on the screen in that part and Arthur Cleaver and Hugh E. Wright, who played Old Bill's pal in the original production, are also seen in those roles in the film version.

You will tremendously enjoy this novel, vital and interesting picture when you see it on Friday next at the Auditorium theatre.

Bert Lytell.
Bert Lytell, star of the dramatic Metro production, "Blind Man's Eyes," is sincere in his belief that a thorough stage training is necessary to make good screen stars. Mr. Lytell is himself a shining example of this belief as, after leaving college he immediately began his dramatic training in stock, studying the drama from all points and on all authorities. His great Broadway success was the result of this hard application, added to a natural genius, and his theory is further carried out by his unusual and rapid rise in motion pictures. Mr. Lytell will come to the Auditorium Sunday.

ALHAMBRA.
"Cannibals of the South Seas."

Martin Johnson explores the adventures and pal of Jack London, has entered his motion pictures of his sensational journeys among savage tribes into a full-fledged picture, "Cannibals of the South Seas."

Perhaps no adventure except London's ever risks his life more times in the search for interesting and unusual material than Martin Johnson who carried a camera to record his travels. Johnson traveled 18,000 miles to gather the films he has assembled in "Cannibals of the South Seas." He went everywhere in the south seas that there was a chance for "different" pictures. He sought strange types of human beings regardless of the hazard he encountered, and he penetrated many wild jungles in the face of government warning that to visit them was suicidal.

Large crowds yesterday saw the first instalment of these wonderful scenes taken on the South Seas and the last showings will be seen tonight together with the twined comedy, "Dad's Knockout" in which Smiling Billy Parson is the star.

Billy Church, popular singer in Lyte numbers is also an added feature and will be heard in new numbers.

Help! Help! Police!

Motion picture producers are said to have more trouble obtaining good scenarios for comedy and comedy drama than for all other types of productions.

Therefore they presumably are entitled to congratulations when they release a picture that really is funny. In that event felicitations may be considered extended herewith to Wm. Fox, George Walsh, Director Edward Dillon, Author Raymond L. Schrock, the Vincennes Co. and all others interested in the production and presentation of "Help! Help! Police!" This photoplay, of which Mr. Walsh is the star, is to open on an engagement of two days at the Alhambra tomorrow. "Help! Help! Police" of course is very much George Walsh, which is another way of saying that it is full of thrills and action.

LEMON JUICE

FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try It!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orange white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply the orange white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yet it is harmless and never irritates.
